BUTLER, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY JUNE 20, 1883.

NO 29

CRIMINAL COURT.

Disposition of the Wicked and Other Matters.

Wednesday the case of Mrs. Amelia Brooks to break the will of her father, Wm. Zick, was called and tried before a jury. It seems the old gentleman died possessed of considerable property, and in making his will, his daughter having married against his wishes, was cut off with ten dollars. Subsequently, however, when he was taken sick and lay at the point of death, his heart was softened and he sent for the truant daughter to come and see him. At this meeting the old gentleman gave her about twelve hundred dollars worth of property, but in so doing did not change the writing of the will. The suit was brought upon the ground that when the will was made her father was not in his right mind. After considerable arguments on both sides the matter was given to the jury who brought in a verdict giving Mrs. Brooks her equal share in the distribution of the property.

The case of Cassity and Nave against the Mo. Pacific railroad came up for trial Thursday, and is perhaps of as much interest to our farmers as any of the proceedings of the circuit court, especially to those who are in the habit of shipping stock. This was a suit against the railroad for a failure to deliver a car load of cattle from Butler to St. Louis on time and in good condition. The cattle were shipped about the 29th day of November, 1882, and when near Harrisonville the train met with some mishap delaying them on the road. The plaintiffs claimed that from the cause of such delay the cattle arrived in a jaded and bad condition causing them a considerable loss. The case was demurred out of court on the grounds that the plaintiffs had signed a contract conjointly with the railroad company, and that the contract explicitly stated that it the railroad company did not deliver the same in good condition, then the shipper should give them written notice of the fact before receiving the stock. This Cassity and Nave or their agent failed to do. Mr. A. Henry, attorney for plaintiffs, will take the case to the supreme court.

The trial of Sarah Hollinsworth for the murder of her infant child in Rockville, some time ago was continued until next term. She is a poor half witted creature, and we have no doubt will be acquitted. She was remanded back to jail, but we understand is not kept in close confinement.

Theodore Wheeler, who was indicted for forgery withdrew his former plea of not guilty and entered one of guilty, throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The Judge in consideration of age sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary. Wheeler is portly and fine looking, and about the last man you would take for a penitentiary bird. He is represented as being a most excellent book keeper and good business man. But, notwithstanding his good looks and fine business qualities he fell to the ways of the wicked, and now he must take the consequences.

Thos. Evans was granted bail and his trial set for next term. The indictment charges Thomas with embezzling $65 belonging to B. W. Adams. The facts are about these: Adams gave Evans a horse to sell for him some time ago and he sold the horse and kept the money.

McGinnis and Lauder, for the murder of Geo. Bollinger was argued for trial Saturday. The case announced itself ready, Mr. Bernathy for defense arose and presented their former pleadings in amended and asked for a continuance, until next term of court.

There being good grounds for the same the court granted his petition. The case of Sumner C. Holcomb for the killing of A. J. Meshier, was also continued, and the prisoners will be taken back to the Henry county jail for safe keeping.

New York, June 11.—The speeches of the Delmonico banquet are still talked about as showing the awakening spirit of the South, and the Exposition has come out before the public with a many-sided significance. Grant has agreed to loan certain valuable works of art, collected by him from all parts of the world, as a special exhibit for the art gallery, and in this practical and elegant manner expresses his sympathy with the enterprise.

Prof. Doremus on Porous Plasters.
THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, COR. LEXINGTON AVE. AND 23d ST., NEW YORK, April 27, 1883.

MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON:
Gentlemen—At your request I have obtained in open market samples of Benson's Caprine Porous Plasters and Alcock's porous plasters, and have submitted them to chemical analysis to determine their comparative merits as external remedies. I find in Benson's Caprine Plasters valuable medicinal ingredients, which do not exist in Alcock's porous plasters; hence in my opinion they are superior to those of Alcock's.

Your Respectfully,
R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M. D., LL. D., Prof. of chemistry and physics in the college of the City of New York, and Prof. of chemistry and toxicology in Bellevue hospital medical college.

The Wonderful Efficacy of DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are raging, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.
